About the client

The Assistance Publique - Hôpitaux de Paris is a public health institution and is the university hospital (CHU) of the Ile-de-France region.

It is the region's largest employer, employing doctors, researchers, paramedics, administrative staff as well as workers.

Solution overview

ORBIS is currently used to manage and control all processes throughout the patient journey - be it the medical, the administrative or the economic aspects.

The solution improves the quality and safety of care. It quickly provides technical, medical and nursing staff with the patient's complete history, including any images and data, so as to speed up and support the diagnosis across the 39 hospitals of the AP-HP.

Client challenges & needs

In 2008, APHP was one of the first public hospital groups, and the largest of the kind in France, to express the need for a single, comprehensive solution.

Once we were selected, the challenge was to set up such a system for the largest European hospital group.

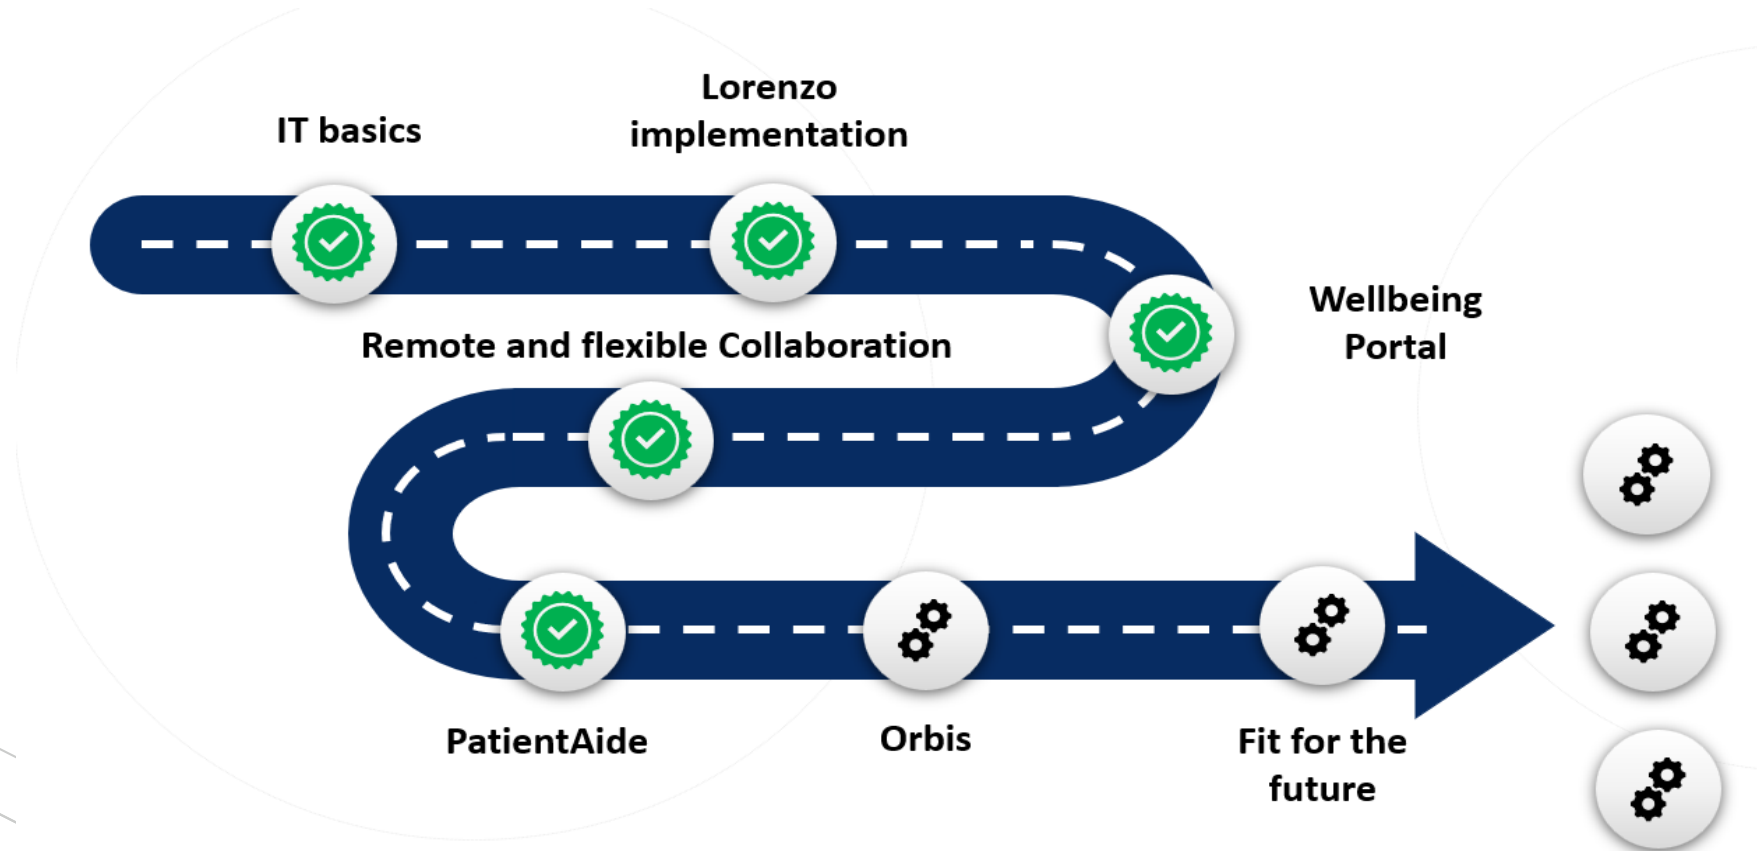

Value for client

ORBIS was chosen for its:

- Functional coverage
- Deployment strength and capacity
- Multi-entity management features
- Reactivity
